10th Anniversary
BLACK TIE GALA

Dear Friends,

On behalf of our Board of Directors, our gala committee and Onslow Memorial Hospital, I would like to invite you to help us celebrate 10 years of helping Onslow Memorial Hospital provide quality healthcare close to home.

This gala is a true celebration of our past, present and future. We are proud of the accomplishments of the organization over the past 10 years and recognize that we could not have fulfilled our mission without the support of our donors, sponsors, community members, staff, physicians and volunteers. We look forward to continuing to work together to improve the health of all the members of Onslow County.

Cath Lab to provide interventional cardiology, thanks to Cannon Grant

Thanks to a $150,000 grant from the Cannon Foundation, the Cath Lab is being outfitted with new state-of-the-art equipment, including: a Philips FD20 Fluoroscopy Unit, Xper Hemodynamic System and PACS System, according to Jeannette Orr, Nurse Manager Intensive Care Unit/Cath Lab at Onslow Memorial Hospital (OMH). The target date for completion of the new construction is early November.

Dr. John Williams III, a New Bern cardiologist, will develop an interventional cardiology program at OMH. The program will eventually involve 4-5 cardiologists from Onslow County as well as CarolinaEast. The expansion of cardiology services is an initiative of Onslow Memorial Hospital's new clinical collaboration with CarolinaEast.

There is strong evidence that making Percutaneous Coronary Intervention (PCI) available in community hospitals significantly improves patient outcomes. Transferring patients to other facilities takes critical time, especially when other facilities are at capacity – and time is of the essence when treating acute cardiac diseases.

PCI is a nonsurgical procedure used to improve blood flow to the heart. Using a cardiac catheter, a surgeon inserts a small structure, called a stent, to open up arteries narrowed by atherosclerosis.

CONTRIBUTOR SPOTLIGHT

SHINING THE SPOTLIGHT ON Madhur Mittal, MD

Jacksonville Children's & Multispecialty Clinic

Foundation: What inspires you to give the Foundation?

Dr. Mittal: The OMH Foundation plays such a critical role in supporting development of vital hospital services for our community. I believe it's important for all of us who are members of the healthcare community to support the Foundation's mission.

Foundation: What's the most satisfying part of working with the Foundation?

Dr. Mittal: To see the fruits and successes of the projects undertaken by the Foundation. The Foundation has made such a significant impact over the years.

Foundation: How does giving enrich your lives?

Dr. Mittal: It really feels good to support causes that have an impact on improving the care we provide. My family feels blessed and enriched by all that we have received from the community and the hospital; in turn, we hope to fulfill our responsibilities to the community by giving back.

Foundation: Which Foundation projects have you found most fulfilling?

Dr. Mittal: While there have been many important projects, as a neonatologist I was most appreciative of the Panda Project, which provided Neonatal Services with essential equipment. I've seen firsthand how that project has greatly enhanced the services we provide our patients at OMH.

PCI can relieve symptoms of coronary heart disease, and may reduce heart damage during or after a heart attack.

The Cannon Foundation is an independent foundation established in 1943 by Charles A. Cannon, President and Chairman of Cannon Mills Company for more than 50 years. Mr. Cannon built a remarkable record of personal philanthropy in the areas of health-care, higher education, and public service. The Cannon Foundation is predominantly focussed on endowing capital projects and equipment in the state of North Carolina.

We are extremely grateful to The Cannon Foundation for this generous grant.
